

I hope to God that you get this.

If my servant, Rawl, has given you this note, it means I am either killed or captured by the Purist fanatics, and will not be able to guide you the rest of the way to the site.

Rawl knows the way too the bunker, although not as well as me, so allow yourselves a bit more food and water for the journey.

Once at the site, avoidingt he skullucks who claim the vicinity, make your way to the third basement level. The security door is buried at the end of the long hall under debris we put there years ago to hide the door. The security code is 114A7G11Y6.

Once inside, you will see the device which will liberate our people and keep the purists from further invasions into our lands. God be with you all.
Good luck,

Jagfoss the Incorruptible,
Archlord of Trade Fort Posk
